Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

I attended a good old-fashioned Democratic love-feast Saturday night in West Palm Beach. The Democratic county committee had charge of the affair and everything went off according to schedule. W. J. Miller, Jr., chairman of the county Democratic committee and son of Newman T. Miller, chairman of the Republican county committee, were in charge. He did an excellent job.

There were speeches galore. There was pomp and ceremony. Democratic workers strutted here and there shaking hands and shaking likewise—and shook more hands. I did a little handshaking myself.

State Representative Russell Morrow did a splendid job as master of ceremonies at the banquet. He introduced all the local dignitaries. I saw Russell turned out in particular job to Pauline because she could talk faster than he could. And, after that introduction had to be made on schedule because the feature address at the banquet by Fuller did not start on the air promptly at 8 p. m.

Speaking of political protests, the Fuller Warren is tops. He took Mr. Willie for his subject—when he finally got around to his subject—and tore him limb from limb more ways than you ever heard of. Every good Democrat thoroughly enjoyed Fuller's remarks.

I particularly enjoyed the friendly spirit of the occasion as shown by Speaker Russell Morrow, Francis Whitehair, B. F. Pate and Fuller Warren—former antagonists in the primary election—were whollyhearted in the occasion and made stirring speeches in behalf of the complete Democratic ticket.

Maybe my eyes fooled me but I was watching rather than when the junior senator, Claude Pepper, entered the banquet hall. He shook hands with Speaker Holland, Francis Whitehair, Johnny Benham—walked behind Governor Cone and his wife—and shook hands with B. F. Pate and returned to his designated seat without so much as a nod of the head to the governor and his wife. I was extended the courtesy of the Senator's action after standing idly by while the Sugar Act of 1937 was extended. The Senator, then adding insult to injury by attempting passage of a surprise amendment to penalize one of the United States Sugar Corporation.

It was my pleasure to be seated across the table from Governor Cone's daughter—Mrs. Mark Byron. She is a chip off the old block and has that devilish twinkle in her eye just as does the governor. A brilliant conversationalist the governor's daughter proved excellent company at our table.

Following the dinner at the hotel the speakers went to the park where 3,000 people awaited their arrival and speeches. The speaking got under way immediately after President Roosevelt's radio speech terminated at 9:30 and Claude Pepper, last speaker on the program, finished at 11:45 p. m.

It was a gala evening.

YOUTH IS INJURED IN FALL FROM TRUCK

John Waring, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Waring of Pahokee, received a painful cut on his head Saturday afternoon when he fell from the back of his father's pickup truck. Eleven stitches were taken to close the wound. The accident happened near the stoplight at Bacon Point road. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Waring's older son, is suffering from an injury to the foot of his right leg. He was taken to the hospital. The younger son, Waring, is suffering from a bruise on his head and a cut on his forehead. He is being treated at home.

Application has been made to the Federal Communications Commission by a group of local business men for permit to operate a radio station there.

Registrants Sign On Dotted Line In Glades Wednesday

Most Registrations Were Made Before Noon, Reports Show

11,395 men between the ages of 21 and 35 registered in Palm Beach Co. on Wednesday of this week. Of the amount 1,200 white men in the Lake Region signed on the dotted line and 2,000 colored men were registered. The major portion of registering was done before the noon-hour Wednesday, according to late reports made by the various registrars in charge of the work. During the afternoon at Canal Point there were several hundred men registered while during the morning 171 signed up.

Canal Point registered 200 white men, Pahokee 424, Belle Glade 533 and South Bay 103. Auzar registered 476 colored men, Pahokee 538, Belle Glade 858 and South Bay 132. The figures are unavailable from Lake Harbor and Ritta. However, the registration was small at both places. Those in charge of registration Wednesday went about their jobs like they had been doing this morning in Washington. Helping registrars were highly complimentary about the manner in which their assistants carried on.

Paper Says Pepper Is Bootlicker, Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

Believes Pepper Is Vindictive In His Actions

The Cleveland News, published in Cleveland, home of the United States Sugar Corporation, carried a scathing editorial about Senator Claude Pepper last week. The Cleveland paper took the junior senator to task for his stand on the extension of the sugar act.

Claude Pepper, Florida's bootlicking mis-representative Junior Senator has been bootlicking the toe of his boot to his constituents in South Florida. In all fairness, we have tried to analyze the situation and have tried to find some reason for Senator's action after standing idly by while the Sugar Act of 1937 was extended. The Senator, then adding insult to injury by attempting passage of a surprise amendment to penalize one of the United States Sugar Corporation.

Senator Pepper's own statement says "I have not only fought for a fair distribution of the quota which belongs to the United States but I have given the personal embarrassment because I know my action might be misinterpreted as a sign of weakness." He has been the basis of an attack upon my advocating the same principle within the state of Florida. That is to say, I introduced an amendment Friday, which, unfortunately, was defeated, which would have given the United States Sugar Corporation.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO VISIT

Charles H. (Windy) Willis, commercial agent for the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, said yesterday that the Florida Livestock, Forage and Forestry Special train will visit Moore Haven on Wednesday, Nov. 13. The train is operated jointly by the Coast Line railroad, the University of Florida, the state college of agriculture and the state marketing bureau. Due to the fact that Florida's cattle and forage industry is being hit hard by the importance those interested should visit the train.

Hub Chevrolet Co., Open In Clewiston

The Hub Chevrolet Co., Incorporated for business this week in Clewiston with Hub Spooner as general manager. Hub has been with the Chevrolet Chevrolet company for three years and has a host of friends who will wish him success in his new venture. The new concern has taken over the Midway garage in Clewiston and will operate from that location until a new building can be erected. The manager of the new concern has lived in Pahokee for many years and will carry into the new location the best wishes of all his friends.

ENROLLMENT IS 217

According to an announcement this week by J. B. Cox, principal of Canal Point school, the enrollment is 217. This is just a little above the enrollment of last year.

First Game Away From Home Tonight For The Blue Devils

Locals Go To Okeechobee After 5-6 Win Over Dania

Coach Frank Hobson and his Blue Devil football aggregation will travel to Okeechobee City tonight where they will meet the high school outfit of that city which is expected to be a hot counter at 8:15. A large crowd of Glades fans will accompany the team. It will be the first game away from home this season for the Hobsons.

Last Friday night the locals had little trouble in trimming the visiting team of the Dania boys 54 to 6. The Dania boys seemed to be in poor condition and more than half a dozen of them were knocked out during the evening play. Hobson's men scored at will and Peacock ran wild for 100 yards in the first quarter of the game. It was a welcome sign to Pahokee and Glades fans since this victory followed the defeat of a week before at the hands of the Punta Gorda organization. The Charlotte county boys trimmed the locals by a score of 19 to 13.

During the past couple of weeks Hobson has been changing positions at his own club, the best playing combination. Last Friday night he seemed to have found the right one—that is it worked against weak opposition. Tonight may be a different story.

Opening Date Set For New Theatre

The long awaited news, regarding the opening of the New Prince Theatre has been released by the Gold-Dobrow interests, through Max Miller, the theatre manager. They have definitely set the date for Sunday, November 3rd. The new theatre will be a picture palace for the occasion. Many people have thought that there would be a higher rating at the front door in keeping with the extra comfort to be found in this beautiful movie palace, but this is not the case. The company at the Everglades Theatre has been dis-mantled in readiness for the new one which will be a picture palace. The new theatre will be a picture palace for the occasion. Glades Draft Board Will Have Offices In Belle Glade City Hall

Registration of Florida's new law having been completed on Wednesday of this week, local draft boards have taken over and will be in charge of the selection, deferment and induction of those who will be called into active military service.

The Glades draft board of Palm Beach county is composed of Lou Betzner of Belle Glade, John Dulany of Pahokee and Ralph Freeman of Belle Glade. Bert Lipp of Canal Point is appeal agent and will represent both the registrants and the federal government.

The law and the rules of the Selective Service system, it was pointed out, will be held at Washington, D. C. The board will be in charge of the selection, deferment and induction of those who will be called into active military service.

After order numbers have been assigned, and this will be done following a national drawing to be held at Washington, D. C. The board will be in charge of the selection, deferment and induction of those who will be called into active military service.

The questionnaire will contain a printed list of questions, the registrant must answer. The answers will be used by the local board in determining if the registrant should be called for military training or for other reasons.

After the questionnaire has been studied by the local board, the registrant will be placed in one of four classes: Class 1—Those persons available for training and service in the land or naval forces.

Class 2—Those persons deferred because the public interest is best served by their staying at their usual work.

Class 3—Those persons deferred because others are dependent upon them for support.

Class 4—Those persons deferred either by the law itself, or for physical disability or other reasons.

Registrants will be placed in Class 2 if their employment in industry, agriculture or other occupations or employment is found by the local board to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest.

Registrants in Class 4 are those whose deferment is prescribed by law or for other reasons are not considered for military service.

Deferments are temporary, and all classifications can be changed by local boards whenever the grounds for deferment change.

Growing Pains Hit Starke As Camp Booms

STARKE, Oct. 17.—The Bradford County Telegraph tells a "moving" tale of Miss Kathleen Hall, lunch room proprietor, who because of the rapid expansion of all business in Starke has been forced to move her place of business three times within ten days. First she was crowded out of her location there because of the rapid expansion of all business in Starke has been forced to move her place of business three times within ten days.

Moving to the Green Building, she remained but a few days before being crowded out again. The building would be torn-down to make room for a new structure. She is now in the new building, but she is still crowded out.

Starke is experiencing a genuine "boom" and all merchants are doing a land office business. The business section is booming and all merchants are doing a land office business.

Council To Meet In Vero

The annual Boy Scout Rally of the Gulf Stream Council will be held in Vero Beach on Saturday, October 26th. This includes all scouts in this section. Not only scouts but also their parents and friends as well. The events will start with inspection in front of the Court House at 11 a. m., then a parade through the business section will follow, and this will end at Pocomah Park. A free lunch will be served. The afternoon events will include all types of scouting activities, including events for senior and regular scouts, and a boat race for sea scouts. After the close of the regular events, a free trip through the World's Famous McKee Jungle Gardens will follow (National Defense Tax 10c). Any one interested in scouting is invited.

New Site Is Bought On Bacon Point Rd. For New City Hall

Council Will Erect New Building On Land Bought For $5,000

Councilmen of Pahokee in executive session purchased through C. A. Bailey, Pahokee realtor, lots 33-34 and lots A-33 and A-34 in a large located within the new city hall. The property was formerly owned by F. J. Reisinger and was sold to the city by deed for the sum of $5,000. The property is located on Bacon Point road, just across the street from the J. B. Thomas shop and grocery store. It fronts 130 feet, on Bacon Point road and runs back 100 feet, with existing building on the lot. The new city hall will be a two-story building, 130 feet by 100 feet, with a total area of 13,000 square feet.

The sanitary inspector, Marvin Cowart, was advised that all buildings on the site must conform to the city limits must have sanitary facilities installed.

Hugo Bow, council member, suggested that the city obtain permission from the United States Engineers to establish a city park on the site. The city engineer, Thaddeus Hall, town attorney, was advised to contact the engineers in regard to the project.

An offer of Hooks restaurant to feed city prisoners for 20 cents per meal per person was taken under consideration. The city is paying $50 per month for prisoners' food and the upkeep of the city hall and government house. O. B. McClure was granted permission to establish a vegetable truck parking lot on his property on Bacon Point road.

Bean Market Flaps Before It Starts; Leave 'Em In Field

Thursday Market Is 75c To $1.00 In New York

One of these days farmers on the shore of Lake Okechobee will be convinced they can't plant beans until after the summer and harvest them at a time when northern states are flooding the market. They'll learn that many have this opinion that it is a costly experiment.

The bean market on the fall deal in the Lake Region flopped before it even started. The market is 75c to $1.00 in New York.

Cutting Machines Are Purchased By The Sugar Co.

Biting Announces Purchase Of Cane Harvesters This Week

CLEWISTON, Oct. 17.—General Manager John W. Moran of the United States Sugar Corporation announced that the company has just been advised by President Clarence R. Bittling that the company has closed a deal for the purchase of several cane harvesters.

"We will undoubtedly proceed immediately with development of a machine under such patent," Moran said, and would make no further comment at this time.

In the past officials of the United States Sugar Corporation have stated they did not push use of mechanical harvesters because of their desire to give as much employment as possible when employment rolls were high.

From time to time the statement has been made that only one-tenth the number of employees would be necessary with mechanical harvesters as compared with present methods of hand harvesting.

It is significant that this purchase of machines within a week after the Junior Senator from Florida introduced a bill in the United States which, if it had passed, would have destroyed the Glades area.

One registration day is history.

Do your Christmas shopping early. There are only 68 days until Christmas.

Hobson's Blue Devils play Okeechobee high school in that city tonight. Be there and give the Glades cridgers your support.

A special school bond election will be voted at the polls in November. Have you acquainted yourself with this particular bond issue?

Palm Beach county Democrats presented a solid front in the county-wide rally held Saturday night in West Palm Beach. All speakers predicted a heavy majority for the Democratic party in November.

Congratulations to the folks who worked for their government in West Palm Beach during the past week. They were busy registering between 21 and 35 for Uncle Sam's army. A splendid piece of workmanship was the result of the co-ordinated effort of those who volunteered their time and efforts on registration day.

Senator Claude Pepper's stand on sugar legislation has caused a lot of comment in the Glades this week. Many folks think Pepper went haywire with his curtailment idea and others believe that what he is trying to do is ok. His amendment would give only 50 per cent of Florida's sugar quota to the U. S. Sugar Corporation. At present that concern grows more than 80 per cent of the state's quota.

PARTY RULE ON BALLOTING

While back, when it appeared that democratic bolters might put Florida in the Wilkie column, there was talk in party circles of doing something about it. It appeared, however, that not much could be done except possibly to have the next legislature lock the barn door after the horse had been stolen. With that in mind the Polk county democratic committee adopted a suggestion, made here, that voters in the democratic primary be required to take an oath that they would support the party nominees. The Hillsborough committee later toyed with the notion of taking similar action and it has also been examined by the Lee county committee, but so far as we know that's as far as the movement ever got.

In the first place it encountered a good riages being performed, sale of driver's and hunting licenses being carried on, along with the various and sundry other duties Mr. Rosenberg performs.

MARRIES FIRST COUPLE

LUMBER COMPANY DIES

Victor L. Geiger, proprietor of Geiger Lumber company on Bar-

deal of public opposition. We don't recall a good word for it in any of the papers or by open expression by high party leaders or public officials. On the other hand it got many a dig in vox pop columns and aroused angry words from prominent bolters. Some of them were mighty defiant in wanting to argue the point but they found no takers. That wasn't because there was no argument to give them. It was more because Willie wanted so fast that nobody cared how the bolters voted. When mischievous does no harm there is usually little demand that the culprits be spanked.

These are the main reasons why the oath proposal was allowed to die a-lorning. Another is that state party officials don't think it is necessary. They point to a party rule which amounts to the same thing. Under its statutory authority to "declare the terms and conditions under which legal electors shall be allowed to vote in the democratic primary," the present state committee before the last primary followed the precedent of predecessors in legally imposing the following requirements:

1. That they be white persons.
2. That they believe in the principles of the democratic party and will support and vote for the nominees of said party in the ensuing general election.
3. That such electors are registered as democrats according to the provisions of state law.

Clearly enough that restricts voting in the democratic primary to those electors who are white persons, who believe in the principles of the democratic party and who agree to support its nominees. No others need apply and those who accept the conditions are morally bound to abide by their agreement.

Maybe that should suffice but it isn't as strong as the oath which candidates for democratic nominations must take. They don't merely agree to support the party nominees; they swear they will. Of course this oath, like others of a political nature, seems to be taken rather lightly but if it were required of all, with mental reservations ruled out, we have an idea that most people would abide by it. —Fort Myers News-Press.

HOME WORK

Comptroller Leo does well to give notice that the various state agencies must "patronize home industry" in their printing contracts, or the bills will not be paid by his office.

The Comptroller has the backing of the law in this position, which requires that printing jobs must, in all cases, be let to the lowest bidder "who shall manufacture the same within the state," and that bids must be asked from "two or more printing houses within the state."

The state has a vast lot of printing, and the Comptroller is to be commended for reminding all state agencies that they must give the work to Florida concerns, for the benefit of Florida printers.—Tampa Morning Tribune.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

You know that I don't think there is anything that hurts quite as much as the painful discovery that a person you have respected, trusted and believed in, has let you down.

Through his two campaigns for a seat in the United States Senate, I championed the cause of Claude Pepper because I honestly and sincerely believed in him and because I felt he would give Florida the kind of representation she deserved.

On several occasions since he took his seat in that august body, his attitude and actions have been such as to raise questions in the minds of his staunchest supporters and have proven a source of genuine embarrassment to his loyal friends.

These things occurred long ago along with Claude, attempting to defend him, and had hoped that such mistakes were due to his youth, inexperience and misdirected fervor. I always gave him credit for sincerity.

Claude Pepper went to the Senate to represent a great state and a great people. With him their love and esteem and their hope. His was a glorious victory with opportunities that were limitless.

One by one he has snuffed those opportunities and day by day he has alienated the friends and supporters that were his strength. The last straw that broke the camel's back came in his recent effort to cripple and destroy one of the state's major industries which would have been the certain result had the resolution offered to the Sugar Act of 1937 been adopted.

Turning the operations of the United States Sugar Corporation to the hands of a committee would so further restrict it with governmental control and red tape as to make its continued operation well nigh impossible, limiting by half its present quota, and stifling the progress and prosperity of the whole Glades area.

He excuses his action on the grounds that it would aid the small grower, but it would also give an opportunity to grow more cane, and would lead one to believe that the Glades area is teeming with poor downtrodden independent farmers who, because of the operations of the United States Sugar Corporation, are being deprived of a means of livelihood.

If there was one lot of truth in this assertion there might be some justification for the Senator's position. But there isn't.

On the contrary, every one who has been made to induce more farmers to grow cane. They have even been supplied seed cane and expert advice and equipment by the very Corporation so vehemently denounced by Pepper.

During the past week I have seen signed statements from numerous small independent growers, all absolutely reticent to the contention of the Senator and confounding him in no uncertain terms for his unwarranted and uncalculated attack. They all point out that were it not for the help given them and the market afforded by the United States Sugar Corporation they would be helpless, and affirm that the passage of such asinine legislation as he has proposed would be nothing short of a death blow to their section of the state.

Typical of the deep feeling on the subject by these growers was the eager question of one grower asked "How do you feel about the Senator's position?" The answer was "I feel that the United States Senator is a man who has done for them and for their section and they point out that is a great deal more than Mr. Pepper has ever done."

As one rider grower points out "No one else has a position to continue cultivation of the acreage which Senator Pepper would require the Sugar Corporation to relinquish. The resultant unemployment and distress would be acute." Another says "If it were not for the United States Sugar Company a lot of us would be on the WPA. I await only the opportunity to tell Mr. Pepper personally what I think of his amendment."

And Senator Pepper arrived in Florida last week, bump the state on behalf of a third term for Mr. Roosevelt, which is extremely unfortunate for Mr. Roosevelt as well as for those who hope to develop good will and kindly feeling for his candidacy. The committee had better let Governor Come or somebody else do the task-beating in the

DEBUNKING TWO BOGEYS

There are two political boogies that need debunking badly. One is the bogey about "mud-slinging" and the other is the bogey about "mud-slinging."

No sane person will deny that the overwhelming majority of the Glades area is well intentioned and that he is green with envy of some public official who is rendering real service to the people with his forceful and convincing talk.

Public service is the ability to talk clearly and convincingly. Most of the "work" of many public positions consists in talking. It is difficult to see how a person can serve satisfactorily in the legislative or executive branches of government unless he can talk effectively.

When a public talking begins to sound off, "let's stop talking and get to work" it usually means that the speaker is incapable of saying anything that is worth listening to and that he is green with envy of some public official who is rendering real service to the people with his forceful and convincing talk.

When a public talking begins to sound off, "let's stop talking and get to work" it usually means that the speaker is incapable of saying anything that is worth listening to and that he is green with envy of some public official who is rendering real service to the people with his forceful and convincing talk.

When a public talking begins to sound off, "let's stop talking and get to work" it usually means that the speaker is incapable of saying anything that is worth listening to and that he is green with envy of some public official who is rendering real service to the people with his forceful and convincing talk.

About Social Security

Editor's Note: Among our readers there are several hundred persons paying one per cent. of their wages to the federal government under the Social Security Act. We believe you will want to know what protection this law gives you and your family. This is the first in a series of articles prepared to give you that information.

Since last January 1, millions of families throughout the nation have been more secure against the hazard of losing the breadwinner whose income has supplied them with the comforts of life.

If you are John Jones or Bill Smith or any other worker in Palm Beach county whose employment is covered by the Federal Social Security Act, you have an insurance policy on your wife and children, protecting them against the risk that you may die, leaving them without any paycheck which has provided their living.

This family insurance protection is a new feature of the law. It is yet little understood. But in great many instances, even if you are the average wage earner making between $100 to $150 per month, these Federal insurance payments might amount to $5000 to $10,000.

The monthly payments to the widow and surviving children are paid as a matter of right and not as a matter of need. This is insurance for the family because the worker has paid for it—one per cent of his wage or salary, deducted by his employer, matched by an equal contribution by the employer himself.

The widow and children will not be asked whether the family owns a home or if there is a bank account or if there is any private insurance. Payments will be based upon satisfactory evidence that the widow and children are such relatives of the wage earner, and that previous to his death he had been employed at jobs covered by the Social Security Act for the required amount of time specified by the law.

The Social Security Board has already approved thousands of applications from family survivors of workers who have died since this provision of the law became effective on last January 1.

Three conditions must be met in order to qualify the worker's family for these benefits. These are: (1) The worker's death must have occurred since last December 31 (the age at which he died is not considered); (2) The worker must have been employed at jobs covered by the Social Security Act in at least six calendar quarters during the last twelve calendar quarters preceding the quarter in which he died and must have earned at least $50 from such employment in each of those six quarters.

To illustrate these family insurance payments we take the case of Bill Jones who for the past three years since this law went into effect has been working at $30 per week, about $120 per month. He has a wife and a couple of youngsters who are 5 and 8 years of age.

If Bill should die, his widow and children would immediately begin receiving $50.47 per month or a little more than $600 per year. In this case the Federal government would pay three checks—one of $21.63 per month to the widow and $14.12 to each child. These payments, if the widow does not marry again and if the children continue in school, will continue at the rate of $600 per year for 10 years at which time the older child will have reached age 18. In those 10 years the payments will amount to $6,000.

After the older child is 18, the widow and younger child will continue receiving their checks amounting to $38.05 per month ($21.63 plus $14.12) for three more years or until the younger child reaches age 18. These checks amounting to $432 per year or about $1,300 in three years, bring the total payments up to $7,300.

No more payments would then be made until the widow reaches age 65. If she has not remarried she would then receive $21.63 per month to continue to the time of her death.

If the widow remarries, while the children are still under age 18, her monthly check is terminated, but the payment to each child continues provided it remains in school between the ages of 18 and 19. This provision regarding school attendance between those ages places emphasis upon education, and the social value of receiving training which will provide a chance of earning a living.

If in the above example Bill Jones had only earned $250 per month, the monthly payments would have been $37.68 or about $602 per year. No additional benefits would have been paid if there had been more than three children.

At the top of the scale the salary man who earns $250 per month, and has a wife and three children has family protection now of $53.20 per month or about $1,000 per year.

If you want to know how much protection this family insurance would provide your family in the event of your death, you can get this information by writing to the Social Security Board, West Palm Beach. A free pamphlet explaining the family insurance protection provided by the Social Security Act will be mailed to you on request.

Here Are a Few Things That Happened 15 Years Ago In The Glades

and Were Recorded By The Everglades News

O. B. McClure and family have moved into their new home.

Mrs. H. E. Graham has charge of the music class here.

A telegram received Wednesday from General Manager Rodenbaugh of the Florida East Coast railroad gave information that commencing on Monday, Canal Point will be a regular station with a station agent in charge.

Clinton G. Coburn of Milford, Mass., advises The Everglades News that he has leased the John Magaw building, now being erected at First Avenue and Conners Highway and will open a stock of hardware, furniture and house furnishings about December 1.

E. M. Cornett, of LaBelle, who appointed county judge for Hendry county today by Governor Morgan.

Dave Hetherington and Ben Anjima took a trip to Geoworth in the former's car, returning in the evening of the same day (Sunday). While their travel was unpleasant, Dave and Ben reported it a wonderful aid to digestion.

Glades county commissioners at their meeting Friday after going over every detail of the plans and specifications for the new court house submitted by Architect Johnson, accepted the same and made plans for the early letting of contracts for the building.

Boas Winne is over at Canal Point from Torry inspecting cattle. He says plowing is being done on the island.

J. R. Poland has sold his interest in the Everglades Real Estate Company which has been reorganized. W. H. Vann remains in the firm and has a third interest. The other interests being taken by A. N. Courtney and W. H. Bonham.

Because J. G. Cone is regarded as the best farmer here the kind of seed he uses is always of interest.

To Our Notion This Is The Best Review We've Read So Far On GWTW

[Editor's Note: Here's a review of "Gone With the Wind," written by Jack Tarver, critic of the Towns County Democrat of Lyons, Ga. It's our favorite G. W. T. W. review, too, and when you read it, it will also probably be yours.]

Katherine Scarlett O'Hara was our hero. A winsome woman with a finger like a marble statue and a head as hard. Gerold O'Hara was her pa. By nature he was most animal like. Proud as a peacock, he roared like a lion, and rode like a dog-and-pony show.

Scarlett was in love with Ashley Wilkes, who was in love with his cousin, Melanie, who was in love with Ashley, and so they were married (Ashley and Melanie, in case you're getting confused). This irritated Scarlett no end, and so in quick succession she married for spite and cash, then, neither did Scarlett forget. The other major characters were Rhett Butler, Belle Watling and a colored lady exactly like the one on the flapjack box. Rhett, who was somehow strangely reminiscent of Clark Gable, was a cross between Jesse James and Little Boy Blue. If Rhett had joined the Lost Cause in the second and not instead of after the termination, the Confederacy would have won the war—and Belle—would have loved Belle, everybody did. During the siege of Atlanta only three things were running—Belle's place. Prissy's nose, and the laundry that kept Rhett's white shirts snow white.

Melanie's baby arrived about the same time Sherman did. Both were equally welcome to Scarlett. It was, so far as painstaking research has revealed, the first baby born in Technicolor.

Anyway, the South lost the war again in the picture (what would you expect with a lot of Yankee producers?) and Scarlett married Rhett to get even with them. Their marriage life was just like sitting in Hettie and listening to the heavenly choir. Finally, after Melanie dies, Scarlett realizes that she didn't love Ashley, but Rhett. Scarlett's youth chamberlain as a baby's undercar. However, Rhett had had enough of her foolishness, and when she told him, he says, "Frankly, my dear, I don't give a damn."

Neither did the audience by this time. They were glad to see the end, their own having become number-two somewhat.

Expect W. V. Knott To Quit Nov. 1

Tallahassee, Oct. 10 — Mark down in your book that State Treasurer W. V. Knott may retire on November 1, 1940, instead of waiting until January, 1941, expiration of his term of office to expire in 41 years of service in public capacity in favor of the half salary pension to which he is entitled.

The venerable Knott has made no statement of intent. But the story is well-founded that his retirement will become effective before the November general elections. Prior to the May primaries, he said he would retire at end of his present term of office.

Story is that his eligibility for a state pension might be endangered through some legal technicality if his voluntary retirement was dated after the general election, and that this possibility is responsible for moving up retirement date.

Probability is that Governor Cone will name J. Ed Larsen of Keyhole Heights to fill out the two months as state treasurer before taking office as an elected official to the same post in January.

Mrs. Ethel C. Youngblood, widow of the late Joe A. Youngblood, West Palm Beach and Jacksonville, is named sole beneficiary in a will filed for probate in court here. Youngblood, state director of the National Youth Administration, died Oct. 4 in Jacksonville. The will gives the widow about $25,000 worth of real estate in Palm Beach and Martin counties and also names her beneficiary a $4,000 insurance policy. Youngblood was widely known in south Florida, having served as county superintendent of schools for several years.

Preliminary work in Palm Beach county's mosquito eradication campaign is expected to start about Dec. 1 when funds will be available from tax collections beginning Nov. 1. J. M. Boyd, county engineer, recommends that a crew be appointed to drain salt water marshes and that a patrol be named to eliminate mosquito breeding places around buildings. County commission was created on a mosquito control board at an election last May. About $15,000 is expected to be raised annually for the work.

The Rev. W. F. Meredith, district superintendent of the Florida Conference, preached at the morning service at the Belle Glade Community Methodist Church Sunday on "Stewardship." In the afternoon he conducted the second quarterly conference at the church. R. W. Kidd, Sunday school superintendent, reported growth and interest in all departments of the church school. Mrs. J. O. Jensen, told of the work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. N. T. Taylor, church treasurer gave a report on finances.

Members of the Pahokee Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, met at the first meeting of the season to meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month instead of on Tuesdays. A special meeting will be held in November for the annual official visit of the worthy grand matron. Mrs. A. H. Dutton, worthy matron, and J. W. Barrett, worthy patron, presided at the business session.

The Sub-Deb Club met Saturday night at the home of Miss Mattie McCloud in Belle Glade. Miss Elizabeth Bregger, vice president, presided over the business session. The club voted to take as its project for the year the support of an orphan. During the social hour the group enjoyed games and refreshments. Those present were Misses Helen E. Wedgworth, Ann Barlett, May Patricia Harris, Glennia and Louise Betancourt. Louise Hollingsworth was a guest.

Palm Beach county commission has ordered that all county employees who are called into military service through the selective service act be retrained in their jobs, or ones of equal value, after their return from military training. And they will be paid by the county while they are serving their country. Similar action has been taken by other official groups and private business enterprises in recent weeks.

Miss Gray And Mr. Newsome Wed

Miss Ruth Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray of The Grove, became the bride of E. J. Newsome at a simple but impressive single ring ceremony in the Pahokee Methodist Church Sunday. The Rev. James A. Hendry, pastor of the church read the vows immediately following the morning church service.

Mrs. Newsome is a graduate of the Pahokee High School, class of 1938, and is popular with the school's younger set. For the past two years she has been employed at the local K. & J. department store.

Mr. Newsome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Newsome of Ocala who was graduated from the Winter Haven High School in 1933. He has been manager of the Table Supply store since his arrival in Pahokee a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Newsome are now at their home in one of the new apartment buildings here, after spending a weekend in Miami.

Paper Says Pepper

in Florida to not exceed 20 percent of the acreage allocated to Florida.

The Senator should feel great personal embarrassment in proposing such an amendment, because as best we can analyze the situation, the act was taken either through gross ignorance of the conditions in a large portion of the state which he professes to represent, or it was done through vindictiveness of a personal nature.

Every effort has been made to acquaint Senator Pepper with every other member of both houses of the Congress with the problems of the growing Florida sugar industry is trying to overcome. Senator Pepper has personally visited the cane area numerous times. He is not ignorant and he is not too blind to see what has brought face to face with conditions, what has been done and what can be done in South Florida. If obstacles are removed from the path of the sugar industry's development.

So we are forced to the conclusion that the amendment which was hastily defeated, was a personal action against the corporation, which has developed America's new sugar bowl, and which deserves every right to continue its development. We do not profess to know what has caused this feeling on the part of Mr. Pepper, but we do know that it is not shared by the farmers of the Everglades who have only contempt for this action, "in their behalf."

Sugar producing in the Everglades began as a vision. It was not the United States Sugar Corporation taken over the remaining assets of an old promotional company and made the dream a reality. The corporation has developed varieties of cane of high sugar content, resistant to soil and weather conditions of the Everglades; it has developed methods of drainage and water-control; it has found new methods of disease and pest-control in cane fields. It has experimented in allied fields of agriculture as a contribution to the Everglades section and to further its prosperity. Because the corporation developed these varieties of cane, these methods of cultivation and so on, it made a paying business out of sugar-production in the Everglades; and it has given freely of the knowledge it has gained through years of research and expensive experiments. The corporation has set up in the Everglades and it has considered this section "home." The problems of the Everglades have been made incidents of the corporation and its officials have sought continuously to solve them.

Clarence R. Bittling, president of the corporation, has fought valiantly for the vegetable farmers of South Florida, trying to obtain a protective tariff for the vegetables which are marketed here duty-free from Cuba and Mexico during the trade season in the Everglades. His efforts in behalf of these farmers have been more notable than Senator Pepper's.

For several years Mr. Bittling has urged truck farmers to grow sugar-cane and has offered, even inducement, to them. Several independent farmers, because of Mr. Bittling's urging and because of the corporation's offers of help, are growing sugar-cane today. Every one of them owes his success to the corporation which has yielded a portion of its income to the small growers who may participate in cane-growing. The corporation made available seed cane of its best varieties, it gave freely of its advice and counsel of its scientists and agricultural experts; it loaned heavy, expensive equipment to them; it made tests of soil samples and cane in its laboratories; and it purchased the cane when harvested.

In addition to all this, corporation officials gave freely of their time and assistance in organizing a co-operative for the production of raw sugar which co-operative to be one in which the corporation would have an equal partnership. Bittling offered to provide the necessary capital for the erection of a new sugar house and the co-operative had gone so far as to have plans and specifications for the sugar-house drawn up. But the protective tariff for cane farmers was dashed by the government's return to the quota system.

The United States Sugar Corporation employs at its headquarters season 5,000 employees in fields and other phases of the work. The agricultural laborers receive cash wages and are probably the highest paid of any agricultural workers in the world. In addition to cash wages, they provide valuable perquisites, well-built homes, medical services, recreational facilities, welfare services, convenient schools and churches. Should the Senator's amendment pass, and he gives warning he will again fight for its passage in the new Congress, it would mean destruction of this important Florida operation. It would throw thousands of well-paid workers out of employment and relief rolls of the state, and federal government.

The corporation has been the largest single factor in the successful operation of the several sub-drainage districts which line the south shore of Lake Okechobee, and keep the land available for vegetable farmers, and for all kinds of agricultural development. Should Senator Pepper's threat of destruction be carried out, it would very likely result in the destruction of proper drainage in the Everglades. Within a few years the ditches and canals, which maintain the maintenance of the drainage system, would be inefficient and without efficient drainage no form of agriculture in the Everglades can continue.

Sensor Pepper's action can be viewed in no other light than that of destruction. He could have served his state constructively by securing proper sugar quotas for it. He could have given his efforts to further the cooperative which would have provided the farmers of his state with a real opportunity for producing sugar-cane. He could have given relief for the distressed vegetable growers in his state by correcting the inequitable tariff which allows Cuba and Mexico to place their vegetables, duty-free, on American markets in competition with South Florida farmers.

Instead of bonding his best efforts for these constructive needs of his constituents, Senator Pepper has been busy preparing a threat of destruction to one of the most valuable and promising agricultural enterprises in the state. No wonder, he has suffered "great personal embarrassment."

STUDENT GETTING ALONG
This office is in receipt this week of a card from Calvin Spooner of Pahokee who is attending Florida Military academy at St. Pete. Calvin states that he is getting along o.k. He says his grades have been pretty good. He hopes to make better ones in the future. Starting this week he will receive The Everglades News each week in order that he can keep up with things at home.

Road Department Makes Car Survey

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 17.—Approximately 200,000 motor vehicles will be worn-out on the roads of Florida this year, an economic analysis of motor vehicle use and consumption recently completed by the State Road Department reveals. That figure represents 42,500 passenger cars and 7,670 trucks.

Annual consumption of motor vehicles has increased 456 percent since 1920 and 32 percent in 1930, during which years the annual consumption was 11,000 vehicles and 38,000 vehicles, respectively. Since the advent of automobiles, approximately 570,000 have been worn out on the roads of this state. Of that number, 746,000 were passenger cars and 124,000 were trucks.

The average life of automobiles in operation today is 8.5 years. An average automobile will travel 104,000 miles before it is discarded or junked. The registration and use of automobiles has paralleled the improvement of the state highway system. In 1920 there were 123 persons for every automobile in operation, and the average operator used 540 gallons of gasoline a year. During the 1920's vast improvements were made on the state road system. Accompanying these improvements in the state road system was a vast increase in motor vehicle ownership and use. That increase was to such an extent that by 1930 there were only 4.24 persons for every registered automobile, and the average operator used 693 gallons of gasoline annually. Today, there is an average of one automobile registered for every 4.06 persons, and an average of 750 gallons of gasoline is consumed for every car in operation.

MANY NAMES

Although the Seaboard Air Line's "Silver Meteor" has been in operation for two years and has been extensively advertised, ticket agents report that they constantly receive requests for reservations on the "Gopher," "Slicker," "Silver Supper," "Shiner," "Speedliner," "Flying Streak," and "Boil Weevil."

At The Theatres

Ann Sheridan puts "Oomph" in Picture
ANN SHERIDAN TAGGED: "WORLD'S SWEETEST"
The editors of the Harvard Lampoon may not endorse their choice, but 300 delegates of the Western Confectioners' association wound up their convention by selecting Ann Sheridan as "the sweetest girl in the world."
The red-haired star was voted new title by acclaim at the Gala Ball which climaxed the convalescence.
Said Robert W. Kaneen, general chairman of the convention, and Ted White, newly installed president:
"We don't want to take issue with the boys at Cambridge. But after all, we've devoted a good many years to the sweets business. We think Ann Sheridan is all right."
The "oomph" girl, informed of the honor on the set of her new film, "They Drive By Night," said: "These gentlemen deserve a kiss and I don't mean the kind that come wrapped in cellophane either."

Drivers' License Sales Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 17.—During the first year the "Driver's License Law" has been in operation in Florida a total of 763,500 licenses of all kinds have been sold according to a report made public this week by D. W. Finley, executive officer of the licensing division of the Department of Public Safety.

County judges sold 694,079 operators licenses, 55,203 chauffeurs licenses, and 8,783 special chauffeurs licenses, and remitted a total of $369,954 to the State.

The State office in Tallahassee sold 2,581 operator's licenses, 179 chauffeurs licenses, and 13 special chauffeurs licenses, for a total revenue of $1,452.50. It also sold replacement licenses to 2,004 operators, 230 chauffeurs and 31 special chauffeurs, for a total revenue of $1,563.

The amount of revenue received from all sources was $372,200. Disbursements in the licensing division were $32,453.97 for salaries and $26,583.98 for expenses. In the patrol division $50,994.92 was paid out for salaries and $14,619.54 for the month, which probably will amount to twelve or fifteen thousand dollars, and last month's reports may require some minor changes in the other items listed.

DEFUNIAK REPORT DIED LAST FRIDAY

W. B. Storr, piano consultant of Walton county and publisher of the DeFuniak Springs Breeze for a generation, died after several months' illness last Friday at his home in Ohio, he came to Florida in 1882. He established the first paper at Jolly Bay, then a thriving sawmill town, calling it the Jolly Bay Breeze, later moving to DeFuniak Springs and changing his paper to the DeFuniak Springs

Breeze, which he actively operated until 1939 when the paper was sold to its present owners. He was a persistent Florida and Walton county booster and did much to advance the welfare of his section of the state.
